Speakers Orderly

Arrive by 5.30pm

If required by the programme organiser, contact the speaker a few days before the meeting and advise you are to be the prime contact for them, and ask if they require any special equipment, i.e. data projector. If data projection equipment is required advise Pure Catering at the Havelock North Community Centre.

Try to get the guest speaker to bring their own laptop with their power point presentation installed on the laptop. If they can only bring a memory stick advise Administration Director who will arrange for a laptop to be available.

Duties:

- Collect microphone from caterer.
- Assist the speaker with setting up the equipment. Test prior to meeting.
- See that the speaker is not left alone and is introduced to other members, particularly the Club President
- If you are to introduce the speaker (this is the norm) sit with them at dinner and gather information. Often information can be found on their company/organisation website beforehand
- When introducing the speaker, be brief and give relevant information, qualifications experience and particular knowledge of subject. Do not assume he/she is known to anyone in the audience.

At conclusion of the meeting, assist with any gear that has been used, and remain with the speaker until they leave, assist to car if necessary.

Vote of Thanks

Duties

- Check with the programme coordinator if it is appropriate to present a gift, collect from Marshall.
- The vote of thanks should first identify you with the audience as its spokesperson, Pleasure and thanks should be expressed, making use of one or two outstanding features of the address. It should be brief and snappy. It is neither a speech nor an opportunity to express your views or have the last word.
- Present gift if appropriate on behalf of members
- Ask members to show their appreciation in the normal manner.

Two-minute talk

Prepare an address of two to three minute to present to the meeting at the completion of dinner. The topic is your choice and could recount an experience or express your opinion.

It is most important that you prepare in such a way that if you exceed two minutes you certainly don't exceed three minutes. Giving your notes to the bulletin editor afterwards will assist his reporting task.
